Vesuvius by vehicle to about 3,000 feet, where your guide will lead the trek along narrow foot paths to the crater's edge. Afterward, tour the excavated ruins of Pompeii, the Roman city built in the shadow of the volcano and destroyed by it in 79 A.D.

Hike with a guide to the summit of Mount Vesuvius, the still-active volcano that buried Pompeii in 79 A.D. Reward yourself with panoramic views of the volcano's crater and the sparkling Bay of Naples. Then descend for a guided walking tour of Pompeii, one of the world's most amazing, well-preserved archaeological wonders. Discover how the citizens of the Roman Empire worked and played, ate and drank, lived and loved, and tragically died.

Highlights:

- Mount Vesuvius: Starting at 3,000 feet, you'll trek narrow mountain paths, zigzagging 1000 feet higher, to the crater's rim.
- Volcanic Rim: Skirt the edge of the crater with an alpine guide, while enjoying breathtaking views of the bay.
- Pompeii: Destroyed by Mount Vesuvius, these ruins offer a fascinating look at daily life under imperial Rome 2,000 years ago.

Sorrento and Amalfi Drive - ES05

OVERVIEW: Enjoy a scenic drive along one of Italy's most beautiful stretches of coastline, the famous Amalfi Coast with stops at the lovely resort towns of Sorrento and Amalfi.

HIGHLIGHTS: Enjoy the 1.5 hour scenic drive along the coast to Sorrento, where you can stroll through one of the loveliest towns in Italy. Explore the classic resort town of Amalfi. Lunch is included in Sorrento before the beautiful 1.5 hour coastal return drive. NOTES: Guests must be able to walk approximately 50 yards over even surfaces with 5 - 10 steps. There are several steps to access the lunch venue and guests wishing to enter the Cathedral of St. Andrew on their own must ascend approximately 60 steep steps

Take one of the world's most breathtaking drives, along the high-winding road hugging the Amalfi Coast, marveling both at villages sheltering against steep cliffs and the sparkling cobalt-blue sea. Explore the romantic town of Sorrento, known for its lemon groves - and limoncello - and a pedestrian-only area with medieval balconied buildings. Then meander the narrow streets of lovely Amalfi, a Moorish-style resort town; be sure to see the 11th-century Cathedral of St. Andrew. Lunch is included.

Highlights:

- Amalfi Coast: Wind along the most famous coastline in Italy, stopping at picturesque villages stacked along impossibly steep cliffs.
- Sorrento: Photo opportunities abound as you stroll the historic town center; look for balconied buildings connected by medieval arches.
- Cathedral of St. Andrew: View the exterior, with its intricate black-and-white facade, said to hold the remains of the apostle.

The Ruins of Herculaneum - ES08

OVERVIEW: When Mt. Vesuvius erupted, covering Pompeii in ash, it also entombed nearby Herculaneum. This guided walking tour explores the unusually well-preserved city of Herculaneum, which remained undiscovered until it was accidentally revealed in 1709. HIGHLIGHTS: See well-preserved artifacts of ancient Roman life at the site which was covered by a torrent of mud, which protected the ruins from atmospheric agents and illegal excavators. Time permitting; you'll stop at a cameo factory. NOTES: Guests must be able to walk approx. 1.5 miles over cobblestones and uneven ground. Herculaneum is not wheelchair accessible.

Stroll among the remains of the Roman town buried in the same volcanic eruption that destroyed Pompeii. Although significantly smaller than the nearby ancient city, Herculaneum is much better preserved, having been encased in mud and lava for centuries. Ongoing excavations have revealed mosaics, wall paintings, wooden elements, foodstuffs, fabrics and other artifacts that, together with your guide's commentary, form an intimate look at life in a seaside resort 2,000 years ago.

Highlights:

- Structures and Artifacts: Upper stories of buildings and houses, wooden beds and doors - even food - remain intact.
- Lavish Decor: Get close to intricate mosaics, inlaid marble floors, and the only intact library surviving from antiquity.
